

Martinsville & Henry County Pregnancy Resource Guide

Welcome

This guide seeks to provide information regarding the resources available to pregnant/postpartum individuals in Martinsville-Henry County, VA.

In 2023, the West Piedmont Health District, the Harvest Foundation of the Piedmont, and the Henry Martinsville Equity Collaborative completed surveys in the community to better understand the needs of citizens from every census tract, ethnic, racial, and income group. Using these insights and secondary data confirmed that Martinsville-Henry County is a MATERNITY DESERT with significant maternal health disparities, from this the Martinsville-Henry County (MHC) Maternal Health Task Force was born.

The Martinsville & Henry County Pregnancy Resource Guide was developed by the MHC Maternal Health Task Force with the hopes of providing a comprehensive booklet of the resources available to support those who are pregnant and postpartum, up to 1 year.

Thank you to all of the organizations listed in the guide for your continued support of the citizens in Martinsville-Henry County. We greatly appreciate you taking the time to submit your organizations and various programs' information to be included in this guide.

Mama, never forget that YOU are your greatest advocate!

If you would like to have your organization added to the Pregnancy Resource Guide, please contact Christa Moore at christa@unitedwayofhcm.org.

Is low dose aspirin right for me? Know your risk of preeclampsia

Preeclampsia is a serious condition during pregnancy that can cause high blood pressure and some of your organs to not work properly. It can lead to serious problems for you and your baby, including preterm birth (before 37 weeks of pregnancy).

Know your risk factors and talk to your provider if you have even one of these risks for preeclampsia:

- You've had preeclampsia before.
- You're pregnant with more than 1 baby (twins, triplets).
- You have high blood pressure, diabetes, kidney disease, or an autoimmune disease like lupus.

Talk to your provider if you have more than one of the following risks:

- You've never had a baby before, or it's been more than 10 years since you had a baby.
- You're considered obese with a body mass index (BMI) of 30 or higher.
- Your sister or mom has had preeclampsia.
- You're 35 or older.
- You're African American/Black—this is a risk factor due to historical inequities and structural racism.*
- You have financial hardship or it's hard to pay your most basic bills.*
- Any of your other babies were born small for their age or with a low birth weight.
- You've experienced previous harmful pregnancy outcomes.
- This pregnancy was conceived using in vitro fertilization.

*Some stressors in life, like low income, lack of access to healthcare, or anti-Black racism, can increase your risk for preeclampsia.

Ask your provider about your risks for preeclampsia and if you should take low dose aspirin.

- ✓ Everyone should be screened for preeclampsia at their first prenatal care visit or before 12 weeks. Ask your healthcare provider if you were screened too.
- ✓ If your provider says it's OK, each day take low dose aspirin (also called baby aspirin or 81-mg aspirin).
- ✓ Take the aspirin exactly as your provider tells you to.
- ✓ Some patients shouldn't take low-dose aspirin, so always talk to your provider first. Their decision is based on things like your health issues, medications you're taking, and any allergies you have.
- ✓ Go to all your prenatal care checkups, even if you're feeling fine. You can have preeclampsia and not know it.

For more information on low dose aspirin, go to marchofdimes.org/lowdosebigbenefits

¿La aspirina de dosis baja es adecuada para mí?

Conozca su riesgo de preeclampsia

La preeclampsia es una condición grave durante el embarazo que puede provocar presión arterial alta y que algunos sus órganos no funcionen correctamente. Puede provocar problemas graves para usted y su bebé, incluso parto prematuro (antes de las 37 semanas de embarazo).

Conozca sus factores de riesgo y hable con su proveedor si tiene al menos uno de estos riesgos de preeclampsia:

- Ha tenido preeclampsia antes.
- Está embarazada de más de 1 bebé (gemelos, trillizos).
- Tiene presión arterial alta, diabetes, enfermedad renal o una enfermedad autoinmune como el lupus.

Hable con su proveedor si tiene más de uno de los siguientes riesgos:

- Nunca ha tenido un bebé antes, o han pasado más de 10 años desde que tuvo un bebé.
- Se la considera obesa con un índice de masa corporal (IMC) de 30 o más.
- Su hermana o mamá han tenido preeclampsia.
- Tiene 35 años o más.
- Es afroamericana/de raza negra; este es un factor de riesgo debido a las desigualdades históricas y al racismo estructural.*
- Tiene dificultades financieras o le resulta difícil pagar sus facturas más básicas.*
- Alguno de sus otros bebés nació pequeño para su edad o con bajo peso al nacer.
- Tuvo resultados perjudiciales en embarazos pasados.
- Este embarazo fue concebido mediante fertilización in vitro.

Algunos factores estresantes de la vida, como los bajos ingresos, la falta de acceso a la atención médica o el racismo contra los negros, pueden aumentar el riesgo de preeclampsia.*

Pregúntele a su proveedor sobre la preeclampsia y si debe tomar aspirina de dosis baja.

- ✓ Todas las personas deben hacerse pruebas de detección de preeclampsia en su primera visita de atención prenatal o antes de las 12 semanas. Pregúntele a su proveedor de atención médica si se le realizaron esas pruebas de detección.
- ✓ Si su proveedor lo autoriza, tome aspirina de dosis baja todos los días (también llamada aspirina de 81 mg o "baby aspirin" en inglés).
- ✓ Tome la aspirina exactamente como se lo indique su proveedor.

My Family Postpartum Plan

ADJUSTING TO LIFE WITH A NEW BABY

The Family Postpartum Plan is intended as a starting point for family discussions about how to adjust to life once the baby arrives. The goal of the Plan is to identify resources before they are needed to reduce stress and ease the transition period.

Keys to a Happy and Healthy New Life with Baby

- Rest
- Nutrition
- Feeding Support
- Self-Care
- Social Support
- Support with House and Family
- Mental Health - Professional Support

Rest

Getting sufficient sleep may be the most challenging obstacle for new parents after the baby arrives but is the most important thing a parent can do stay physically and emotionally well. Each parent should strive for 5 hours of uninterrupted sleep to stay well and function fully. Planning ahead is key!

Who is available to help during the day?

Who is available during the night to help?

Are there people to call during the dinner/early evening hours?

Strategies to get sufficient sleep:

Nutrition

Even the most basic needs like eating and drinking can be challenging when caring for a newborn. Before the baby arrives, make a plan for meals for the first few weeks after the baby comes home. Remember to emphasize protein to help with mood and build strength.

Nutritious meals to prepare and freeze before the baby arrives:

Grocery stores that offer online shopping and delivery:

Nutritious takeout and/or delivery options:

Friends who can prepare and deliver meals after baby arrives:

Nutritious menu ideas that are quick and easy to prepare:

My Family Postpartum Plan

Feeding Support

Feeding a new baby can be a full-time job and can be challenging in the initial days when trying to figure out what works best. Feeding choices – breast, bottle or both – do not have to be exclusive nor do they need to be permanent.

Each baby and each situation is unique. Choose what works best for you, your baby, and your family.

Friends and Relatives that will support and encourage infant feeding choices:

Resources I can consult for help, to answer questions or make recommendations:

Local postpartum doulas who will visit and help with infant feeding:

Local board-certified lactation consultants and other breastfeeding resources who will support infant feeding:

Support with House & Family

There are so many things on the to-do list after baby arrives, but moms cannot do it all themselves, nor should they try! Asking friends and family to help care for older children and make them feel special will help older children with the transition. Asking for help with household chores will make friends and family feel like they truly contributed. Identify things that you can delegate and make a list of ideas of chores that would be helpful when people ask. Keep a list of your support team members and reach out to them for help. Most people will be truly happy that you asked!

Chore List (laundry, unloading/loading the dishwasher, running the vacuum, attending to errands):

Support Team (grandparents, friends, sisters, church members, etc):

Activities to do with older children:

Self-Care

New parents need time to take care of themselves and nurture their relationship as a couple, which is not easy when adjusting to life with baby. Planning time for self-care and time as a couple will ensure that neither is neglected during the transition.

What will I do to rejuvenate me?

What can we do to nurture time as a couple?

Who can we count on for occasional childcare?

Resources for professional childcare providers:

Social Support

Social support is critical to reducing stress and to feel valued and cared for. Identify peers with young babies and find support groups that meet your needs, including postpartum support groups, postnatal fitness classes, breastfeeding groups, on-line discussion groups and virtual support meetings.

Strategies for building a support network include:

Local social support groups include:

✿ Perinatal Mood and Anxiety Disorders (PMADs) are the most common complications of pregnancy and childbirth. Fortunately, these are usually temporary and respond well to some combination of rest, self-care, social support, talk therapy and, if needed, medication. Knowing what resources are available before the baby arrives will prepare you to take quick action to avoid needless suffering.

Mental Health - Professional Support

Talking with other women who are experiencing or have survived perinatal mood and anxiety disorders (PMADs) can be extremely helpful. Support groups offer the opportunity to validate experiences, share coping strategies and gain support and encouragement. To find a social support group online or near you, go to postpartumva.org.

Medical professionals play an important role in assisting women recover from PMADs. New mothers can talk with their OB, family practitioner or primary care provider, as well as mental health professionals that can assist with counseling and medication when necessary. Pediatricians can also provide information about PMADs and offer suggestions for support.

I have talked with my OB, midwife and/or doula about the baby blues:

I have talked with my OB, midwife and/or doula about PMADs:

I have talked with my partner about PMADs:

I am aware of mood changes that may happen during or after pregnancy, know that it is common and that I should not be afraid to ask for help if I need it:

Tips

- Sleep dramatically improves mood and can be the biggest risk factor for mental health issues if you are sleep-deprived. Schedule shifts with your partner so you both get good sleep and ask for help to ensure you are getting a minimum of 5 hours of uninterrupted sleep.
- Nutrition is another key to staying healthy – both physically and mentally. Focus on eating high protein, high nutrition foods that you can grab and eat on the go, such as yogurt, cheese, meat, pre-cut veggies and fruit.
- Consider a support group to connect with new moms for friendship, camaraderie, commiseration, humor and advice. Talking with others going through the same experience can help normalize everything and ease the transition into motherhood.
- If things are overwhelming and you do not feel like yourself, a therapist specializing in Perinatal Mood and Anxiety Disorders may be an invaluable help. You may be surprised how much better you will feel after a few sessions.
- Consult postpartumva.org to find a local support group, mental health professional and other resources.

Mi Plan de Posparto Familiar

ADAPTÁNDOME A UNA NUEVA VIDA CON UN BEBE

El Plan de Posparto Familiar tiene la intención de ser un punto de partida para las charlas familiares sobre como adaptarse a la vida una vez que llega él bebe. La meta del Plan es identificar los recursos necesarios antes de que ocurran para reducir estrés y facilitar este periodo de transición.

Claves para una Vida Feliz y Saludable con su Bebe

- Descanso
- Alimentación
- Apoyo con la alimentación
- Cuidado Personal
- Apoyo Social
- Apoyo con la casa y la familia
- Apoyo de Salud Mental

Descanso

Lograr dormir lo suficiente es la dificultad más grande que los nuevos padres tienen una vez que él bebe llega, pero es lo más importante que los padres pueden hacer para tener un buen balance físico y emocional. Cada padre debe lograr dormir 5 horas sin Interrupción para estar bien y capaz. ¡Planificar antes es la clave!

¿Quién está disponible para ayudar en el día?

¿Quién está disponible para ayudar en la noche?

Hay alguien a quien llamar durante la cena/o temprano en la noche?

Estrategias para dormir suficiente:

Nutrición

Las necesidades más básicas como comer y tomar pueden ser complicadas cuando está cuidando de un recién nacido. Antes de la llegada del bebe haga un plan de alimentos para las primeras semanas, para cuando él bebe llegue a casa. Recuerde priorizar las proteínas para que le ayuden con el ánimo y para tener fuerza.

Comidas nutritivas para preparar y congelar antes de que llegue él bebe:

Tiendas que ofrecen productos por internet y entrega a domicilio:

Comidas para llevar nutritivas y/o entrega a domicilio:

Amigos que pueden preparar y traer comidas una vez llegue él bebe:

Ideas de menús nutritivos que son rápidos y fáciles de preparar:

Mi Plan de Posparto Familiar

Apoyo con la alimentación

Alimentar a un recién nacido puede ser un trabajo de tiempo completo. Al principio puede ser muy difícil cuando se trata de descifrar que es lo que realmente funciona. Las diferentes alternativas-pecho, botella o ambos-no deben ser exclusivos, ni tampoco permanentes. Cada bebe y cada situación son únicas. Elija lo que sea mejor para usted, su bebe y su familia.

Amigos y familiares que la apoyaran y la animaran con las alternativas de alimentación:

Recursos que puedo consultar para ayuda, encontrar respuestas o recomendaciones:

Información de posparto local que me pueden visitar y ayudar con la alimentación infantil:

Concejeras de lactancia certificadas locales y otros recursos que me pueden ayudar con la alimentación del bebe:

Ayuda con la Casa y la Familia

Hay muchas cosas en la lista para la llegada del bebe, pero las mamás no pueden hacerlo solas, ni tampoco deberían intentarlo! Buscar ayuda a los amigos y familiares con los niños más grandes los hará sentir especiales y ayudaran a los otros niños con la transición. Pedir ayuda con los que haces de la casa harán sentir a los amigos y familiares que realmente pueden colaborar. Identifique cosas que puede delegar y haga una lista de ideas y que haces que pueden ser útiles cuando pregunten. Mantenga una lista de su grupo de apoyo y búsquelos cuando necesite ayuda. ¡La mayoría estará muy feliz de que usted les pregunte!

Lista de que haces (lavar ropa, cargar/descargar el lavaplatos, pasar la aspiradora, hacer compras):

Grupo de apoyo (Abuelos, amigos, Hermanas, hermanos de iglesia, etc.):

Actividades para hacer con los niños más grandes:

Cuidado Personal

Los nuevos padres necesitan tiempo para si mismos y nutrir su relacion como pareja. Lo cual no es muy fácil cuando se está adaptando a una vida con un bebe. Planificar tiempo para el cuidado personal y tiempo con su pareja asegurara que ninguno se descuide durante la transición.

¿Qué hare para sentirme rejuvenecida?

¿Qué podemos hacer para nutrir la pareja?

¿Con quién podemos contar para cuidar a los niños ocasionalmente?

Recursos de niñeras profesionales:

Apoyo Social

El apoyo social es importante para reducir el estrés y sentirse valorada y apreciada. Busque amistades con bebes y busque grupos de apoyo que la ayude con sus necesidades, incluyendo grupos de apoyo de posparto, clases de actividad física postnatal, grupos de lactancia, grupos de charlas en línea y reuniones de ayuda virtual.

Estrategias para construir una red de ayuda incluye:

Grupos locales de ayuda:

✿ Los Desordenes de Cambio de Ánimo y Ansiedad (PMAD's) son las complicaciones más comunes en el embarazo y después del nacimiento. Afortunadamente, estas son usualmente temporarias y responden muy bien a la combinación de descanso, cuidado personal, apoyo social, terapias de charla y si es necesario medicinas. Al saber cuáles son los recursos disponibles antes de que llegue él bebe le ayudará a poder tomar una rápida acción y podrá evitar un sufrimiento innecesario.

Salud Mental – Apoyo Profesional

Hablar con otras mujeres que están pasando o sobrevivieron un desorden de cambio de ánimo (PMADs) puede ser muy beneficioso. Los grupos de apoyo ofrecen la oportunidad de validar las experiencias, compartir estrategias y lograr ganar apoyo y motivación. Para encontrar un grupo de apoyo en línea o cerca suyo vaya a postpartumva.org.

Los profesionales médicos juegan un rol muy importante para asistir a las mujeres a recuperarse de una PMADs. Las nuevas mamás pueden hablar con sus obstetras, practicantes o medico primario, al mismo tiempo con profesionales de salud mental que pueden ayudar con consejería y medicina si es necesario. También los pediatras pueden proveer información sobre PMADs y ofrecer otras sugerencias de apoyo.

Hable con mi obstetra, partera y/o doula sobre la depresión posparto:

Hable con mi obstetra, partera y/o doula sobre PMADs:

Hable con mi pareja sobre PMADs:

Estoy al tanto de los cambios de ánimo que pudieran ocurrir durante o después del embarazo, sabiendo que es común y de que no debo tener miedo de pedir ayuda si la necesito:

Claves

- Dormir mejora dramáticamente el ánimo y puede llegar a ser el riesgo más alto de salud mental si esta sin dormir. Organice horarios con su pareja para que ambos puedan descansar y pidan ayuda si es necesario para que puedan descansar un mínimo de 5 horas ininterrumpidas de descanso.
- La nutrición es otra clave para estar saludable – tanto física como mentalmente. Concéntrese en comer proteínas, alimentos nutritivos que puede llevar y comer al salir, como yogurt, quesos, carne, vegetales cortados y fruta.
- Considere un grupo de apoyo para conectarse con nuevas mamás y poder hacer amigas, camaradería, compañerismo, humor y consejos. Hablar con otros que están pasando por la misma experiencia puede ayudar a normalizar todo y hacer de la transición a la maternidad más fácil.
- Si las cosas son muy abrumadoras y no se siente usted misma, un terapeuta que se especializa en el Desorden de Cambio de Animo puede ser de gran ayuda. Usted se sorprenderá cuan bien se sentirá después de unas sesiones.
- Consulte en postpartumva.org para encontrar un grupo de apoyo local, profesional de salud mental y otros recursos.

Get Care for These POST-BIRTH Warning Signs

Most women who give birth recover without problems. But any woman can have complications after giving birth. Learning to recognize these POST-BIRTH warning signs and knowing what to do can save your life.

Call 911 if you have:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Pain in chest <input type="checkbox"/> Obstructed breathing or shortness of breath <input type="checkbox"/> Seizures <input type="checkbox"/> Thoughts of hurting yourself or someone else
Call your healthcare provider if you have: (If you can't reach your healthcare provider, call 911 or go to an emergency room)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Bleeding, soaking through one pad/hour, or blood clots, the size of an egg or bigger <input type="checkbox"/> Incision that is not healing <input type="checkbox"/> Red or swollen leg, that is painful or warm to touch <input type="checkbox"/> Temperature of 100.4°F or higher <input type="checkbox"/> Headache that does not get better, even after taking medicine, or bad headache with vision changes

Tell 911 or your healthcare provider:

“I gave birth on _____ and
(Date)
 I am having _____.”
(Specific warning signs)

These post-birth warning signs can become life-threatening if you don't receive medical care right away because:

- Pain in chest, obstructed breathing or shortness of breath (trouble catching your breath) may mean you have a blood clot in your lung or a heart problem
- Seizures may mean you have a condition called eclampsia
- Thoughts or feelings of wanting to hurt yourself or someone else may mean you have postpartum depression
- Bleeding (heavy), soaking more than one pad in an hour or passing an egg-sized clot or bigger may mean you have an obstetric hemorrhage
- Incision that is not healing, increased redness or any pus from episiotomy or C-section site may mean you have an infection
- Redness, swelling, warmth, or pain in the calf area of your leg may mean you have a blood clot
- Temperature of 100.4°F or higher, bad smelling vaginal blood or discharge may mean you have an infection
- Headache (very painful), vision changes, or pain in the upper right area of your belly may mean you have high blood pressure or post birth preeclampsia
